

Owens Wins Heisman Trophy

By BILL CONNORS
Sports Editor

Steve Owens may have lost his chance to attend the Texas-Arkansas football game Dec. 6 at Fayetteville, Ark. Owens was among the 42,000 who had tickets to the kickoff confrontation of the nation's No. 1 and 2 teams on Tuesday. Owens had to consider the possibility that he will not be able to attend. New plans require him to be in New York on the night of Dec. 4. That is when the 1969 Heisman Trophy presentation will be made. The University of Okla-lahoma senior tailback has to be there. He is the recipient.

AFTER RECEIVING college football's most prestigious award, Owens may have to stay an extra day or so for press and television appearances. It will have to be done with watching the game on TV.

"I guess that's not too much of a sacrifice to make for winning the Heisman," Owens checked via telephone from Norman during a frenzied, nerve-racking session.

The Downtown Athletic Club of New York, which conducts the Heisman voting, did not notify Owens, or anyone, of his selection.

He will be in New York until noon Tuesday. OU officials had been led to believe that they would have another advance notification if Owens won.

HOPING FOR THE BEST, they had Owens sitting by a press conference. When there was no word from New York by 11:30 a.m., Owens decided.

"Phelps must have won."

Part of a quarterback Mike Phelps was yesterday. Owens received 29 first place votes in the 462 ballots cast by sports writers.

Phelps' junior who leads the nation in passing yards, was named first in 29 ballots in total. Phelps is Owen's student number, 1,482 to 1,204.

John Amerterback Rev. Barn of Ohio State and Archie Manning of Mississippi were third and fourth.

It was only the second Oklahoma to win the Heisman, established in 1955.

BILLY YESSLER, OU HALF-back, won in 1955. Yessler was Denver Barlett, who graduated Wednesday as Steve Owens' school.

Laird's aide, made public Tuesday, accused to the senators "how stupid and sick I was when those allegations first came to my attention."

Laird said that when he first heard of the incident in April he looked into it immediately and shortly thereafter the Army launched a full investigation.

MEADLOF'S MOTHER, MRS. Terry Meadlo, said from her home in New Goshen, Ind., that the Army "made a major error of fact."

Meadlo's father, a coal miner, said he would have shot the soldier if he were given the order to kill and then "it wouldn't have happened."

Calley's father was reported to have gone into diabetic shock when he learned that his son would be court-martialed early next year.

Calley's sister, Dawn, 33, who lives with 11-year-old son, said she is "glad."

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon announced Tuesday the United States never will give arms warfarer attack, say as enemy spreading bacteria.

The President also promised to destroy all existing stocks of bacteriological weapons and to halt all further research on such weapons.

In the future, President said, new research will be confined to efforts to counter any germ warfare attack, such as developing immunization shots to protect the population.

Military Silences My Lai Witnesses

The Associated Press - A military judge Tuesday ordered possible witnesses not to discuss details of an upcoming hearing to hold any evidence they may have about the alleged massacre by American soldiers of civilians at My Lai in South Vietnam.

The action came as two top Army officials announced to the public that they would hold the Senate Armed Services Committee Wednesday on what the Army claims of the incident in March 1968, which had led to a full investigation.

and in Vietnam, the mother of a former soldier who said he spread bullets into helpless women and children in the Vietnam hamlet, accused the Army of making her a war criminal.

THE GROUND - A 300-page report by a general investigating the My Lai massacre was issued by Lt. Col. Paul R. Kelly in Columbia, Ga. It had been sought by both the defense and prosecution in the forthcoming court-martial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., charged by the Army with the murder of 29 Vietnamese civilians.

The charges were placed against Calley by a military judge following letters said published accounts of interviews with persons who said they were present at or heard firsthand accounts of the alleged slaying.

Most of the accounts have been denied by the Army.

Calley's lawyer says that "a reasonable man" would not believe anyone would testify in a way that would prejudice a trial.

SECRETARY OF DEFENSE Melvin R. Laird has said the Defense Foreign Relations Committee will hold a hearing on the My Lai massacre.

The hearing will be held in Washington, D.C., on Dec. 10.

Laird said he will order a study of the effects of the shift of research emphasis, programs of this kind frequently engaged in wholesale credit card swindlers operating in Tulsa.
